Corn is the most important crop grown in the United States, exceeding in value that of all the other cereal crops combined. With the exception of an insignificant percentage, the corn crop is all consumed in this country. And yet the Democratic press have the assurance to say that the farmer has to sell his products abroad.

ALL NORTH.

—Mart Follett is down from the lake.

—The profanity over yesterday's delayed train was loud and thick.

—House to let inquired of J. Schmitt, at Muller, Schmitt & Co's.

—Just think of it, 20,000 majority in Maine and Blaine not on the ticket!

—BORN.—In Carson City, September 10, 1888, to the wife of John Catton, a girl.

—Ely Barkley has just received a fresh lot of fruits and candies and Bartlett pears.

—Pat Brannan was arrested yesterday for welting night watchman Bryant with a club.

—Harry Martin, and Tom Alley have gone on their C. & C. survey from Keeler to Mojave.

—Lucky numbers—97,429, 21,025, 1,587, 67,617, 62,315, 68,481, 58,225, 44,641, 55,868.

—Miss T. F. Tuffy and Mrs. Oliver Roberts have gone to San Francisco for medical treatment.

—Just received, a new line of Boys' full suits and Men's red knit underwear, at A. Cohn's Emporium.

—A man was brought into the station house so drunk yesterday afternoon that he had to be packed on a dray.

—Miss F. E. Kluegal who has been visiting State Treasurer Tuffy left for her home in Oakland night before last.

—A San Francisco detective came up yesterday from the Bay to get a requisition from the Governor for two thieves now detained in Reno.

—Bill Pickler is down with typhoid fever, also Ed Vonderhyde, the soda manufacturer, and Miss Sabin, and Hensy Keyser is threatened. This sort of sickness indicates bad sewerage.

—Ayer's Agree Cure acts directly on the liver and biliary apparatus, and drives out the malarial poison which induces liver complaints and bilious disorders. Warranted to cure, or money refunded. Try it.

—The candidacy of Messrs Martin and Bray for the office of county Commissioner meets with general approval. Mr. Morris is a hold-over. The old board have reduced the county debt and will do to keep.

—We know of no mode of treatment which offers to sufferers from chronic diseases, a more certain hope of cure than that which is comprehended in the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. For purifying and invigorating the blood, this preparation is unequalled.

—The terrible robbing, thieving tariff, the democrats are making such a hue and cry about, amounts when divided up to $1.30 per capita a year. A man who would refuse to pay $1.30 a year to see American industry thrive is a natural democrat.

THE RESULT IN CARSON.

What People are Saying About It.

The news from Maine yesterday morning caused a broad smile to light Main Street from Ben Ellsworth's to Gardner's.

The Chronicle of the evening before had led people to believe that the vote was "close" but as the Enterprise remarked in the morning that "close" probably meant "sultry". The comments on the streets show about how every body feels.

Dr. Lee.—How does it look now? Why I can't exactly say but if con talks I'll bet two to one on Ben Harrison being elected.

Major Garrard.—I can't see as it amounts to much not much more than the same State gave Blaine.

Kelly the Grocer.—I guess that about settles the cat hop.

Major Dennis.—No significance whatever; I expected a much larger majority.

Sam Wright.—Well Major your expectations will be fully realized in New York.

At the Bank.—Why don't they come around and take some of these bets?

George Thaxter.—When I was in Maine a few weeks ago the highest they put the majority was 8000.

Frank McCollough.—Free trade is getting badly mauled all along the line.

Judge Wells.—Cleveland's luck won't pull him through.

Bill Crisler.—Keep Burchard tied up now and we are fixed.

An Impostor.

There is a young man going about town playing the deaf and dumb game and soliciting money. He is not deaf and dumb for on Monday when he heard some parties talk about the Maine election and the probabilities he got excited and lost his head, forgetting he was playing an assumed role and began to talk of the election, showing that he heard all that was said and could express himself. He wears a checkered cap.

Candidates' Meeting.

All candidates for county or township offices are requested to meet at the District Courtroom at 7:30 on Saturday evening to arrange for the primaries and select delegates for the County Convention.

The APPEAL publishes this call at the request of several candidates, and hopes to see every candidate present.

Rough on Cassidy.

The Chronicle (Dem.) says that the mere mention of Cassidy's name gives people the cholera morbus.

—In a recent speech Governor Foster of Ohio, using as his date the record compiled by the New York Tribune, gave this summarization of Mr. Cleveland's civil service career. The Tribune's record has been before the public for weeks and has not been successfully attacked. Governor Foster's speech seems likewise impregnable. He says:

"He has appointed to office 137 men who have been indicated and convicted of crime. Two of them were murderers, five of them were duelists, seven of them forgers, three of them were rioters, a number of them were keepers of houses of ill-fame, a number of them had committed frauds on the revenue service, a number of them had been guilty of pretty larceny, one of them had been in the workhouse for stealing a dog, a number of them had been convicted for robbing mails and postoffices, and one of them was appointed to take charge of a postoffice while yet in jail for having robbed it. Almost every crime known to the law is named in the list of crimes committed by these appointees."

—The New York Sun was very anxious to have Thurman take the stump, but when he fired off his first broadside against the protective tariff the Sun was not pleased.

The trouble that the Democratic managers find with Hurd and Thurman is that if they talk at all they will talk free trade. Well, the Democratic party is committed to the free trade policy, and must sink or swim on that issue.

A CURIOUS ARGUMENT.

The Prohibitionists are a very worthy class of people with a good object in view, but they often do some outrageously queer reasoning. Miss Frances Willard calls upon the Prohibitionists to vote against Harrison because she says that she was in Chicago when the nomination was made, and ten minutes after the announcement she saw a big Harrison flag hung out of a saloon. This is why she opposes Harrison.

If Miss Willard had been in St. Louis when Cleveland was nominated, she would have seen the saloons hoist Cleveland flags.

When a personal preference for a Presidential candidate is hung on so slim a peg as that, there is no telling where will hang next.

Cleveland's Luck Changing.

One thing hurting the Democrats and breaking their rank is a growing belief that Cleveland's luck is at last changing. This has stood him in good service heretofore. Many of his own plans are failing and nearly all of the organized effort of his party are resulting ingloriously. The Negro Convention at Indianapolis was a failure, although the Democrats had organized it to make it help them.

The Know-Nothing Convention at Washington City this week was largely under their control and their plot to entrap it into an endorsement of Harrison was also a failure. The business world is also losing faith both in Cleveland's management and his luck. Again that great class of indifferent business men who in time of lack of prosperity are always ready for a change, and whose readiness for it defeated the Republicans in 1884, are now saying:—"The situation is bad and let's have a change," adding that it can't be worse and that it will probably be better.

Burial of Herb. Lindsay.

Yesterday afternoon Herb Lindsay, who died of typhoid fever at the St. Charles, was buried under the auspices of the Knights of Pythias. The remains were taken to the Lodge, where the funeral services were conducted by Rev. Brady, of the Methodist Church. The choir consisting of Mrs. Fox, Miss Finlayson, of Reno, Nat Dow and Will Mackay, sang "Beyond the Sowing and the Reaping," the Funeral Hymn and "Go Bury thy Sorrows." The Knights of Pythias escorted the remains to the cemetery, where the Pythian services closed the ritual. A long line of carriages followed the remains to the grave, and the coffin was buried in floral designs. The pall bearers were E. Burlington, Jesse Bright, Charles Brulin, A. Lepper, A. Uhl and D. Gillis.

A Sad Disappointment.

Some years ago a couple in Marshall county, Kentucky read in the papers that the State would pay $1,000 to the first woman who borne 13 children. These good people determined to win the $1,000 and their industry was rewarded recently by the birth of the thirteenth child. Then the woman went to claim the money and was met by the cold intelligence that no money was appropriated and it was only a newspaper myth. If the legislature of Kentucky has any gallantry left it will appropriate the $1,000 fairly due these industrious people.
